A14 – A1(M) northbound at Alconbury Interchange

The A14 northbound between Rusts Lane and Alconbury Interchange and A14 to A1(M) merge at junction 14 will be closed 24 hours a day for four consecutive weekends between Friday 8 June and Monday 2 July. Lanes on the A14 northbound will be narrowed and a 50mph speed limit restriction will be in force. This is to carry out essential repairs to the carriageway. The closures will occur from 9pm on Friday until 5am on Monday between these dates. There will also be additional overnight closures between 9pm and 5am from Monday 2 July to Saturday 7 July.

Whilst this section is closed, there will be no access to the A1 (M) via the A14 northbound and the northbound entry slip road at Rusts Lane will be closed. This work may cause significant traffic congestion and we would advise avoiding the area on these weekends if possible.

During the closures, there will be signed diversion routes. The A14 northbound closure will be diverted along the A14 westbound to Brampton Hut Interchange (A14 junction 24) and the A1 towards Peterborough. At Alconbury Interchange, diversions will be signed dependant on your destination.

We will also take the opportunity to make improvements to the bridge at Alconbury Interchange as well as carry out drainage cleaning, improvements to the safety barrier and vegetation clearance. Doing the work now will reduce the need for future closures, thereby minimising disruption to the travelling public.

We expect the work to be complete by mid-July, subject to weather conditions.
