The main building is a two-story white structure with a dark grey slate roof and three prominent chimneys. It has several windows, some with dark shutters. Attached to the side is a wooden extension with a gabled roof and glass walls, supported by wooden posts. A small white sign is visible on the wooden structure.

A black car with a red interior is parked in the gravel driveway. The license plate is partially visible and appears to be yellow.

The front corner of a red car is visible in the bottom right corner of the image.

A vertical signpost is located to the left of the main building, featuring a logo and text that is difficult to read.
